A The Sacrament of Penance, remits sin, and restores the friendship of God, to the soul, by means of the absolution of the priest.

Q How do you know that the priest has the power of absolving from the sins committed after Baptism?

A I know that the priest has the power of absolving from the sins committed after Baptism, because Jesus Christ granted that power to the priests of his Church, when he said:

"Receive ye the Holy Ghost, whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them, whose sins you shall retain, they are retained."

Q How do the priests of the Church exercise the power of forgiving sins?

A The priests of the Church exercise the power of forgiving sins by hearing the confessions of sins, and granting pardon for them, as ministers of God and in his name.

Q What must we do to receive the Sacrament of Penance worthily?

A To receive the Sacrament of Penance worthily we must do five things:

- 1 We must examine our conscience.
- 2 We must have sorrow for our sin.
- 3 We must make a firm resolution never more to offend God.
- 4 We must confess our sins to the priest.
- 5 We must accept the penance which the priest gives us.

Q What is the examination of conscience?

A The examination of conscience is an earnest effort to recall to mind all the sins we have committed since our last worthy confession.

Q How can we make a good examination of our conscience?

A We can make a good examination of conscience, by calling to memory the commandments of God, the precepts of the Church, the seven capital sins, and the particular duties of our state in life, to find out the sins we have committed.

Q What should we do, before beginning the examination of conscience?

A Before beginning the examination of conscience, we should pray to God, to give us light, to know our sins, and grace to detest them.

A Contrition, or sorrow for sin, is a hatred of sin, and a true grief of the soul for having offended God, with a firm purpose of sinning no more.

A When I say that our sorrow should be interior, I mean that it should come from the heart, and not merely from the lips.

Q What do you mean by saying that our sorrow should be supernatural?

A When I say that our sorrow should be supernatural, I mean that it should be prompted by the grace of God, and excited by motives, which spring from faith and not by merely natural motives.

Q What do you mean by saying that our sorrow should be universal?

A When I say that our sorrow should be universal, I mean that we should be sorry for all our mortal sins without exception.

Q What do you mean when you say that our sorrow should be sovereign?

A When I say that our sorrow should be sovereign, I mean that we should grieve more for having offended God than for any other evil that can befall us.

Q Why should we be sorry for our sins?

A We should be sorry for our sins, because sin is the greatest of evils, and an offense against God our Creator, Preserver, and Redeemer, and because it shuts us out of Heaven, and condemns us to the eternal pains of Hell.

Q How many kinds of contrition are there?

A There are two kinds of contrition; perfect contrition and imperfect contrition.

Q What is perfect contrition?

A Perfect contrition is that which fills us with sorrow and hatred for sin, because it offends God, who is infinitely good in himself and worthy of all love.

A Imperfect contrition, is that by which we hate, what offends God, because by it we lose Heaven, and deserve Hell; or because sin is so hateful in itself.

Q Is imperfect contrition sufficient for a worthy confession?

A Imperfect contrition is sufficient for a worthy confession, but we should endeavor to have perfect contrition.

Q What do you mean by a firm purpose of sinning no more?

A By a firm purpose of sinning no more, I mean a fixed resolve, not only to avoid all mortal sin, but also its near occasions.

Q What do you mean by the near occasions of sin?

A By the near occasions of sin, I mean all the persons, places, and things, that may easily lead us into sin.

A If we cannot remember the number of our sins, we should tell the number as nearly as possible, and say how often we may have sinned in a day, a week, or a month, and how long the habit or practice has lasted.

Q Is our Confession worthy if without our fault, we forget to confess a mortal sin?

A If without our fault we forget to confess a mortal sin, our Confession is worthy, and the sin is forgiven, but it must be told in Confession if it again comes to our mind.

Q Is it a grievous offense, wilfully, to conceal a mortal sin in Confession?

A It is a grievous offense wilfully to conceal a mortal sin in Confession, because we thereby tell a lie to the Holy Ghost, and make our Confession worthless.

Q What must he do, who has wilfully concealed a mortal sin in Confession?

A He who has concealed a mortal sin in Confession, must not only confess it, but must also repeat all the sins he has committed since his last worthy Confession.

Q Why does the priest give us a penance after Confession?

A The priest gives us a penance after confession, that we may satisfy God, for the temporal punishment due to our sins.

Q Does not the Sacrament of Penance remit all punishment due to sin?

A The Sacrament of Penance remits the eternal punishment due to sin, but it does not always remit the temporal punishment, which God requires as satisfaction for our sins.

Q Why does God require a temporal punishment as a satisfaction for sin?

A God requires a temporal punishment as a satisfaction for sin, to teach us the great evil of sin, and to prevent us from falling again.

Q Which are the chief means by which we satisfy God for the temporal punishment due to sin?

Q What must we do, when the confessor asks us questions?

A When the confessor asks us questions, we must answer them truthfully and clearly.

Q What should we do after telling our sins?

A After telling our sins, we should listen with attention to the advice which the confessor may think proper to give.

A We should end our Confession by saying, "I also accuse myself of all the sins of my past life, telling if we choose one or several of our past sins."

A While the priest is giving us absolution, we should from our heart renew the Act of Contrition.

What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his own soul, or what exchange shall a man give for his soul. For the son of man shall come in the glory of his father, with his angels, and then will he render to every man according to his works.

The Lord's prayer.

Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name; Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen.

The Angelical Salutation

Hail Mary full of grace! the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou amongst women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, Jesus.

Idoly Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

The apostles Creed.

I believe in God, the Father Almighty, Creator of Heaven and earth; and in Jesus Christ, His only Son, who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified; died, and was buried. He descended into hell; the third day he arose again from the dead. He ascended into Heaven, sitteth at the right hand of God, the Father Almighty; from thence He shall come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

The Confession.

I confess to Almighty God, to Blessed Mary ever Virgin, to Blessed Michael the Archangel, to Blessed John the Baptist, to the Holy apostles Peter and Paul, and to all the Saints, that I have sinned exceedingly in thought, word and deed; through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault.

Therefore I beseech blessed Mary ever Virgin, blessed Michael the Archangel, blessed John the Baptist, the holy apostles Peter and Paul, and all the Saints, to pray to the Lord our God for me.

May the Almighty God have mercy on me, and forgive me my sins and bring me to everlasting life. Amen.

May the Almighty and merciful God grant me Pardon, absolution, and remission of all my sins. Amen.

An act of faith.

Oh my God, I firmly believe that thou art one God in three Divine persons, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. I believe that thy Divine Son became man, and died for our sins, and that He will come to judge the living and the dead. I believe these and all the truths which the Holy Catholic Church teaches, because I have been renewed them, who cannot neither deceive, nor be deceived.

An Act of Hope.

O my God! seeing in thy infinite goodness and promises, I hope to obtain pardon for my sins, the help of thy grace, and life everlasting, through the merits of Jesus Christ, my Lord and Redeemer.

An act of Love

O my God! I love thee above all things, with my whole heart and soul, because thou art all good and worthy of all love. I love my neighbor as myself for the love of Thee. I forgive all who have injured me, and ask pardon of all whom I have injured.

An Act of Contrition.

O my God! I am heartily sorry for having offended thee, and I detest all my sins, because I dread the loss of heaven and the pains of hell, but most of all because they offend Thee my God, who art all good, and deserving of all my love. I firmly resolve, with the help of thy grace, to confess my sins, to do penance, and to amend my life.

The Blessing before meals

✠ Bless us, O Lord! and these thy gifts, which we are about to receive from thy bounty, through Christ our Lord.
amen

Grace after meals

✠ We give thee thanks for all thy benefits, O almighty God, who livest and reignest forever, and may the souls of the faithful departed through the mercy of God, rest in peace.
amen.

My name is Annie Armburg
leader of the main army of Child rebels, under my assistants
Angelina Armburg, Kenneth Cass,
and Mary Stanck who lost
her leg at the fight at Sawndale.

I have received warnings that I am in danger of assassination.
But as horrible as it is to be murdered in cold blood
I defy my enemies before God to do it.

Since I copied the collection,
I am now planning to advance my army of 1000
rebels, all eighteen years old,
against Androam. I thought I am only ten, I am able to lead them and have
do so, and will do so again. I am the full width of the manuscript
as far as it goes of the battles going with the Glandelinians and the rebels
at the Child Election places
and will have them
published as soon as I can.

My chief assistant Angelina Armburg and
darling sister at that,
has told me about
the Viriam girls,
who are doing their
best to help me
in my cause. If

I could only find them, and speak to them it would be well.
I have heard that they are of dazzling beauty, both in features and ways good as saints, real freedom and, loving toward every body.

The battle of Gloriana is the main warning. I thought victory in the frightful battle Vivian's left wing of 10,553,000 men was almost entirely destroyed within four hours by Federal attack whose onslaught was mightier than that of a tidal wave sweeping into a wind-sucked town. The main commanding general was killed, the field was in the hands of the enemy, and it was all that Vivian could do to restore the line of battle along the Mc Hollister Run section, where this terrible tragedy happened.

This was the most sanguinary battle that had ever raged on eighteen hours. Both sides had fought with their might. Three hundred thousand men fought. The loss on the Christian side was fearful and only the army under General Idanson and this tremendous effort.

bloodiest battles of the war was the Calverine massacre. The three battles at Marcorilla, the nine days massacre like battle at Red Creek, and then followed the mightiest conflicts the world ever saw, Big Galknool, Mudge River, Joe-sa-Que-Bach, Tan Oak, Big Idedd, Itancklin or Callon Run, or Nine Pines, a battle with many names, Gulo Callon Normy Run, Marischkanas, Mc. White Run, and at the stupendous battles at Big Beef, four battles at Mc. Hollister Run drenching the ground in torrents of blood, battles of devastation at Bernimolson, Jennie Vainum, Jennie Tammes, whose cities were wrecked and women of all in the four third year of the war the battle of Lunbeam Creek where the losses of both sides were so severe that they could never be accurately estimated.

Frightful massacres of priests, nuns, religious of all sects, men, women and children were gutted, torn from limb to limb by the drunk crazed infuriated Glandelinians. Devastation and desolation spread throughout California, from South coast to North coast, to the distance of two thousand miles.

thousands of miles of forests were consumed by oceans of fire, and the rest of towns and cities wrecked by the enemy, and burned by the forest fires and beyond estimation. 10,000 are the known cities and towns devastated or destroyed during the three years of war alone.

All this alone I lay to the disappearance of the Armbring picture. Apparently it was done by a Christian, so why not they suffer for the loss.

No longer I prayed for its return, the more the prayer seemed unanswered. In the meantime the war again heated slightly. What was the meaning?

A month later only then what I observed. All Saints day, fourth year of the war was celebrated in blood, and wholesale desolation. Towns and cities were wrecked or totally destroyed, by the hundred score, from the effects of the concussion and shell fire of the mightiest battle ever waged yet.

That was Gloria
or Chin Burgs Run.

Not even the power of all of the oceans briny water, mighty as its surging tide caused by a million hurricanes could have the inconceivable fury of the three hundred glacial union onslaughts.

It began at Hornet's along the
the Holleser Run. Dismal's right wing overwhelmed by Federals toment
of onslaughts was practically wiped out. Stanck Smith's lines, coming to the rescue was dislodged.
Danson's the main commander was killed, the whole of the wounded, and a hundred other generals were killed or wounded.

General Vinnick having his center overpowered by men
forcements sent 8,000,000 men
against Federals and ordered them after being in return threw with him for the rest of the fatal morning.

Seven times 7,000,000
Glendelins crushed themselves
against Vinnick's lines
with the result of 5,000,000 men down. The battle raged simultaneously at Gillie's Run, the W. H. H. Run, Chimney Run, and
at Colby and Stum's
where mighty waves
of Glendelins troops
charged into a sea of
death and destruction
only to be repulsed
with the most fright
ful losses.

A good part of the battle
raged at Chamberlain, Ophelia
and at Sacramento.

Carnation ridge was one of the worst scenes

when after the Christians captured
it after two important charges the fox tided with might and main to recapture it. General Vinnick himself with his brother general Danson Vinnick held his ground
on the Vinnick hills, finally wishing back the last charge
of the fox.

It was general Williamsburg
Zimmerman's coonies that enabled Vinnick to hold his ground
against great odds, until general Vinnick came to the support
with his great army only to lose against the Glendelins
one of the greatest of battles. The battle raged
two days ending as a draw.
Many battles came even after this, especially 3 names at during the fourth year of the war. During the fourth year of the war despite the loss of the Chimney picture
the Christians have seemed to have more success in the war, as Geo. C. C.
Moutley, Hanna and Vinnick
Wichay, and also McWhorter fell, but nevertheless it
only a bull before the storm of defeat comes.
There is left only in half a year more for them
and if it is not recovered
before then well - ?

page 325 his two companions are enemies of the Niam girls.

I have known the Niam girls since the great war began. Though I have not seen all the experiences which they had gone through, I nevertheless know Gerald Stanning and his two companions. The names of his two companions, Jackson Dugan, and Frederick Dowden.

Though I am an Angolan spy, and the three boys know it, they do not attempt to cause my capture, but they strive with might and main to capture Niolel and her sisters.

And why? Mainly, his two sons and the other Niamle Niam generals I have poisoned their minds against the poor little girls, by their wicked lies about them. The three boys had been captured by the Angolians a few years ago, and by the kindness of the Niam girls have been freed from prison, and death, which had been threatening them. In their gratitude to the Niam girls. Stanning told me on day when I saw him among the other prisoners, that he and his companions doubted as to the real stories of the Niam girls which they told him, and if they really suffered as they said he sees no proof of it.

He and his companions unknowingly had caused most of the suffering of the Niam girls because he and they had the opinion that Niolel and her sisters were enemies of everyone, traitors to even their own beloved country and associates.

Stanning remembered the day at Cedarvale, when he had met one of the Niam girls during the forest fire, and with friendly intent kissed her on the right cheek.

Niolel had told me a long time ago, being the one who was kissed and how she felt over his conduct which he showed afterward. It was even after

Calcutta, when through the betrayal of Starving and his two companions Violet and her sisters were carried off
by Glandelinians, while their other sister lay almost
at the point of death.

Starving and his two companions wished to have them in their possession
themselves, but Violet
and her sisters were sold
separately to different masters.

Augustine St. Clare
bought Jemima, brutalized
her beyond description
beat her many times
kicked her almost
anywhere and left her
for dead for days.
Jemima's father Evans
found her.

The others were also brutalized though
one of the masters
being touched finally became his little slave
friend and smothered her out of the Glande-
linian prison.

A little after I met Starving and his companions. He confessed that they were the cause of
the abduction, but
starving, Violet and Jemima's father Evans

Glandelinians are full of treachery, worse than the meanest snake and toads
I wanted them within my possession, for the general
intention to find out
their true character, and instead of that they are sold separately to different masters who are
more brutal than the Glande-
linians.

I believe them
to be what is said
about them, make me
an enemy to be sure,
but this treachery I
will not stand for and I know where they were taken to, and believe
me Evans their guardian knows it too
for I have told him
by note so keep
me God I'll have my revenge. I find one that they
are not what is said
about them I'll desert
the Glandelinian
army. Oh God how I hate! manley
and his wicked
generals.

After this Violet and her sisters were captured
by Glandelinians
at Calcutta, and Starving

on account of suspecting them to be spies, had to be harsh toward them, though it almost broke his heart to do so.

But now things are changing. Stanning and even his companions even suspect the Mamleys is treacherous, enemies of the Virians, the men who are plotting their destruction and trying to drag him and his companions to capture the Virian girls so that they may surely perish.

Stanning and his companions are angry mad as bulls and hate Mamley and his sons worse than ever.

Instead of being hostile to the little girls as before they are becoming treacherous to Mamley and several times Stanning saved Violet and her sisters from being captured by the worse child enemy of all, Gen

Mamley, a Virian son.

So it is now seen why they are no longer hostile to him.

Now seeing the dark future and treachery

Stanning and his companions are growing wiser, and are now bound to frustrate Mamley's plots at all costs. When Genad Stanning was almost the cause to Germarius' death after he betrayed him and led him uselessly into a deadly ambush. Stanning himself told me how he caught him and his companions were in Mamley's headquarters, in a different room adjoining Mamley's.

I was terribly surprised. I said to me, Mamley told the officers with him that he was using me and my two companions to bring down the Virian girls or to capture them and bring them to him so that he could butcher them. I heard him say this.

In truth those Virian girls are as righteous as saints, hate anything that is wicked, love everybody with a true love whether they be enemies or friends, but that fool Stanning and his fool companions do not know and at all, I have impressed upon the minds of those three Gladelinian boy scouts, that those Virian girls are their most dangerous enemies, traitors to their own country, fake Christians, and that sometimes they pretend to spy on us, are chased to the Christian lines, but get for us information from the Christian brothers.

Those two boys Fredrick and Darger fell for it first then they turned striking against the Virian girls. It is a good joke I should say. On account of the cleverness of these three lads, those Virian girls have suffered just as I want them to suffer, and some day when the chance comes I will destroy those Virian girls without warning and strike us suddenly as a rattlesnake. There were many things that he said that convinced me and my companions that he and the other wicked generals had tricked us in a most treacherous manner and so we shook hands and vowed that we would never be scouts our innocent victims as they had been no more, and instead would warn them of every danger that we knew was threatening them."

Starring himself sometime during the fourth year of the war, led Federal and Confederate into an ambush, and though these two wicked generals escaped, Starring fortunately happened to be undisguised and one of the surviving Gladelinian soldiers, or officers knew who he really was.

I have been with the Virian girls a good many times. I have read constantly "Uncle Tom's Cabin," especially poor little Eva, but the Virian girls are more spiritual in their ways, more innocent, more holy and righteous, and are apparently happy and cheerful despite all the misery they went through. Eva had passed through a life of ease, sorrow and happiness together, the only sorrow being over the condition of the negro slavery. But poor Violet and her sisters, what about them? They themselves experienced a world of sorrow and misery. Jack Evans who has heard all, saw most of it, and saw their condition many a time is so cool and quiet that it seems as if he cared nothing about it.

But when he heard there is burning a fierce anger, a anger that is extremely dangerous and some day will be aware no Glandelinian. He is going to explode like a mighty volcano being swamped inside by the sea and then all Glandelinians will rather go to perdition than face his indescribable fury.

He has scourged one man for brutalizing the Virian girls already disabled many other gray coats for even slight offences and this shows the fire of hatred and rage of that is burning within his bosom.

There is always a kind of flash in his eyes that even makes general Virian turn his face in fear at that. Jack Evans is really as I would call it a guardian angel in human form.

No total harm can come to the Virian girls while they are under his care, and though many attempts have been made they've been frustrated with terrible fury. Jack Evans before he learned to know them had been a hard worked child slave since he was seven years old, and instead of the work hard as it was causing him harm it made him grow up a strong powerful man, and many a time I saw him carrying a 2000 pound gun over his bare shoulders which 300 horses and 200 men could not even drag and push up a hill of gentle grade.

So what Glandelinian skunk can hope to cope with him successfully, even if he be armed to the teeth. Evans has faced a rain of bullets many times without being injured.

So was him at close quarters three hundred Glandelinians could not do at even with weapons without having to shoot him.

It was on November the fourteenth 1911, that though the terrible war is still raging, I have on account of the loss of the picture of the Aramburg child, who was murdered by one of the Tamenlines or Federals, that I have though still a correspondent, quit taking in accounts of the many battles already past since March and those now raging.

There are four already raging, four terrible battles. They are the battles of Terwilliger, Moriarty, Pagaza and Bucklemany, all Angelinian victories.

Having received a wound at Virginia Run while taking in the accounts of the terrible battle there, raging I am not able until probably two months from November 30, to January 31 to resume the accounts.

I have risked much in taking in the accounts of many of the battles, now past I narrowly escaped capture at Big Bethel, Bushy Run, and Shiloh.

I have either for two or three battles, seen the actual child Aramburg in her spirit. During the battle of Marcellus, some second battle, I mean, the Glandelinian storm of onslaught was coming on with a fury that knew no bounds.

Unable to stand the frightful scene and the terrible gasping roar of musketry, which almost choked my very heart, and caused, frozen, I left the scene as quickly as I could.

Just as I reached Jennico Lodge, near Marcellus, I was suddenly aware of a person following me.

Though I took no part in the frightful war, only being a war correspondent, I nevertheless had great dread of the Glandelinian soldiery, though I did have like warm sympathy for their cause because of the loss.

Drawing my pistol, I suddenly wheeled upon my follower intending to shoot without hesitation as I expected no mercy from any Glandelinian who would suspect me as an Angelinian spy.

so my consternation I beheld before me a little girl, the very likeness of the one in the picture I lost. I lost all my fear then but said rather seriously,

"Little one it ain't polite to scare a person like that. I thought you was a skulking Glandelinian following me. Who are you, and what do you want?"

"My name is Annie Aronburg," she answered to my further consternation. "Couldn't you for my sake withdraw the curse on the Christians because of your loss?"

I answered, "Don't know about that. It ain't my doing, and you ought to know."

She begged me persistently but the more she pleaded and teased the more I refused. She then grew angry and told me that sticking for the enemies of our Lord was an act of sacrilegious treason to God, that by remaining so, I would never obtain the manuscript or picture that I lost and that I was really a wicked man to refuse the request she begged of me."

Being aroused I said, "Don't talk to me like that you little wummin leamer," and attempted to seize her to give her a shaking up, but no one was there. As a large tree was standing, just a foot from me, I quickly ran around it expecting that she had darted from behind it but she was not there. I looked everywhere but in vain.

She was gone! My didn't I feel queer. I left the spot as quickly as possible, feeling the guilt of having insulted a celestial being. For days and days while out on various battles fields I expected to see her again.

I did at Shelantenburg after, first being perused by the Glandelinians, and then by the Abbeemians who mistook me for a Glandelinian soldier on account of my gray uniform. I escaped them both.

I may have been thirty or forty feet from me Wollister River, when the same little girl, dressed all in white with hands outstretched toward me pleadingly and swaying back and forth as light as a breeze her curly yellow hair looking yet more yellow in the afternoon sun, suddenly appeared almost under my horses' feet.

My white horse had been used by families with small children, so long that she instantly stopped without once telling her to, casting her eyes down toward the child and pricking up both ears.

I suddenly cried to her; "Why were under the sun did you come from in such a storm of distant battle as this?"

The nearest house wrecked by a high explosive was half a three leagues away and I know there were no children there.

I then decided to ride along side of her and pick her up, but I never did, for as soon as the horse started, the child started too with the same swaying motion, a wailing cry just as the ahead of the horse and looking back over her shoulder, reproachfully at me. I never thought at the time how impossible it would be for a child to go so fast.

The horse never took its eye off the little girl and neither did I. She ran on until she came near to a farm went through the fence, and sat down facing me, frowning and pointing a threatening finger at me.

When I came pretty close I dismounted, the child suddenly darting diagonally across the road to a telegraph pole, the wires being down, and ran around, peering out from the other side at me, this pole being located in the corner of a wheatfield.

I hurried after the child when she ran around the pole, crying out, "Why you little scamp, don't you think I can catch you?" and I made a dive around the pole only to find her looking so threateningly at me that I did not have the nerve to touch her.

 "Do not dare touch me you friend of the Gladiolarians" she screamed. You refused my request, and yet by making you follow me, I saved your life. I saw where you first stood a mine had been exploded by your would be friends."

I didn't answer but drew back my salve to flourish it toward her, but only to find empty air. Not a thing in sight, not even a bird or a cloud to make a shadow.

I waited excitedly for her to reappear, for I couldn't imagine what had happened. The wheat had been cut and shocked by the Gladiolarians farmers according in this region but the nearest shock was a long way to the pole, and the little girl couldn't possibly have got to the shock without me seeing her.

I looked and looked, but never discovered a trace of anything. No one can describe my feelings which I had. I fully believed that she had been murdered and that God had allowed her spirit to appear before my and that I not only refused her request, but God as well. After this occurrence I continued my work and though I never forgot about her, I was more determined to recover her picture or another one like it.

It was the day when I was at a safe distance watching the crushing onslaught of the Concentinians curvally, against the Omarians at McWhirther Run. That I had a similar experience.

I had been riding toward the McWhirther Run when I thought sure I heard her call me. Though however her voice seemed far away and weak.

In looking toward the place waters of the river I thought sure I saw the beautiful child in the water with lily pads all around her.

All I could see was her face, her eyes so large and such an imploring look in them, and her arms extended as if beckoning me to come, she was slowly sinking in the water and all but her face had disappeared.

I rode hastily toward the river intending to wade in and draw her out of the water when to my utter astonishment I saw her on the road beckoning to me to come away from the water. I was more flabbergasted than ever.

Was it really the child's spirit still persistent in her request? No I obeyed her call. I feet touched in spite of myself. I rode up close to her expecting her to dart away like she did before, but this time she came right up to me with a look of reproach in her eyes.

This time she told me that a great struggle in the war, was soon coming, a terrible battle at Glomrid or Anonburg Run, and she begged me earnestly to keep away from it as I would not be safe any longer, as I did not grant her request.

I answered,

"My child I realize now my mistake, in being harsh to you. But I swear before God that I have one way to grant your request. And that I will tell you, and do if you will reveal to me why you appear to me and disappear in such a mysterious fashion?"

She looked at me at this and then said,

"I told you before who I am. I'm Annie Anonburg. I was cruelly murdered by Raymond

Richardson Federal

by his abominable in face face against Christians

I was a leader of the rebel children who rebelled against our masters to gain our freedom from slavery and misery as you was the one who had secured my picture, and many other articles once belonging to me, I had but that as you alone have the solution of both sides in your power, I decided to appeal to you to avenge my assassination on the poor Union girls will have to lie for me to save their nation and fathers armies from complete ruin and defeat at the hands of their gladiolusian enemies.

You refused my request until I appealed a second time, and this is the time. If you refuse this time all will be lost, for the foe will be victorious.

I answered that I would do my best, to do all that she requested but that I must under any conditions recover the picture first that I was not an enemy of God or of the poor Angelinians, and that the return of the picture must be so forthcoming to bring about the success of the Christians.

I had in the meantime continued on my way slowly the child following, when just as I was going to speak again

I was started by the near approach of battle. I then looked around, but she was gone. The fourth time I met her and the last was at Cronburgs Run I having witnessed all its surpassing horrors.

She was attired as a delicate child this time only appearing a moment smiling at me and then was gone. I haven't seen her since, but I have now joined the Christian armies, am an officer, and have been leading one of the fiercest charges at Dogan Joe Rae Run.

I have known Gertrude Angeline since the nighty war began at Crowley. She has seen the Cronburg picture many often and declared to me that the murdered child resembles Angeline Vivian a good deal.

My two classes have been very serious, but the loss of the Cronburg picture has been the greatest, has caused the frightful disasters during the battles the torment of the Vivian girls and the frightful fury of the great war.

Violet and her six sisters Jennie, Joice, Angeline, Lottie, and Catherine, Daisy, are very young children even at the fourth years duration of the bloody war, and at their age, it is inconceivable how they could have stood all they went through and lived.

It was believed that at the outbreak of the war had their father sent them immediately to Albionia, they could have escaped all this but truly there was no chance what even of their getting to Albionia at that critical time and so saw wisely that there was infinitely more safety for his scanty little daughter if they went off under protection of the Angelinian armies and under the Guardianship of King Gammon, best friend and adviser, Jack Arm hose Evans.

He is worth while to be their guardian, for he is a young Hercules a champion prize fighter before he knew the Vivian girls, a champion wrestler, swimmer and a champion horseback rider. He is also a sharpshooter with rifle, pistol, and even cannon. He also has been seen that

Just before the battle
mother -

Just before the battle mother, I am thinking
most of you,
While upon the fields were watching with the enemy in view.
Comrades brave around me lying dead with thoughts of home and God,
In well they know that on the morrow
a million will sleep beneath the sod.

Chorus
Farewell mother you may never, never me
to you heart again -
But oh you will not forget me
mother of you will remember with the slain -

2
I thank I hear the bugles sounding, I see the signal for the fight, mother, as he now may God protect the mother, as he never does the fight.
I hear the battle cry of freedom, I hear
at words upon the air,
Oh yes we'll rally round the standard
on with fearless nobly there.

I thank I hear the children crying, I see the signal for their help, they're pleading
while upon the scaffold, they're pleading
with their comrades in view.
I hear the death yell of terror, I hear it swell
upon the air, Oh yes we'll rally
to their rescue, on they go fearless, cruelly
there.

4
Just before the battle mother, I am thinking of children - a dear, now
may God protect them mother, until we're through the fight.
I hear the battle cry of freedom, I hear it
swell upon the air,
Oh yes we'll rally round the standard
on with fearless nobly there.

Marching Through Calvernia.

1

Bring the good old blyss boys we'll sing another song, with a spirit that will start the world along, sing it as we used to sing it, fifty million
strong while we were marching through Calvernia.

Now the children shouted when they heard the joyful sound, low the carles hobbled, which our commissary found, low the happy children even started from
the mills while we were marching through Calvernia.

Yes and there were Christian children who, swept with joyful tears, when they saw the harnessed flag, they had not seen for years, hardly could they be restrained, from breaking forth in cheers, while we were marching through Calvernia.

Blarbons, dashing Christian boys will never reach the coast, so the saucy carles said, and twas a handsome boast, but they not forgot also to reckon with the host, while we were marching through Calvernia.

Chorus.

Idunnah Idunnah we bring the jubilee,
Idunnah Idunnah the day that makes them free,
so we sang the chorus, from Calvernia to the sea, while we were marching through Calvernia.

5

So we made a thoroughfare for children and their train, sixty miles in latitude, three hundred to the main, treason fled before us, for resistance was in vain, while we were marching through Calvernia.

Idunnah Idunnah Idunnah

1

In the prison cell they sat thinking motion down of you, and then bright and happy home so far away and the tears that flew from their eyes, of all that they could do, though they tried to cheer them.

In the battle front they stood, when their flintiest charge was made, and they went as off a million men in more, times
that were before they reached us, times
they were beaten back, disarmed, and they heard the cry of victory over and over.

3

So within the prison cell, they were waiting for the day, open wide the iron door, that shall come to, open wide the iron door, the saddened eye grew bright, and the poor heart almost gave up, as they think of seeing home and friends once more.

Chorus.

Idunnah Idunnah Idunnah the boys are marching, and cheer up children they will come,
and beneath the stormy flag,
you shall breathe the air again
of home, the freedom in our own blood.

1
 Yes they'll rally round the flag boy,
 They'll rally again and again,
 Raging the mighty battle for freedom,
 We did charge up the hillside,
 We stormed from the plain,
 Raging the mighty battle for freedom,
 Chorus
 The Calvernie forever, I'll stand Down with the traitors, on with the charge,
 While we rally round the flag
 boys
 Rally again and again,
 Raging the mighty battle for
 freedom.

We are springing to the call of our brothers gone before,
 Raging the mighty battle for
 freedom,
 And we fill the vacant ranks
 with a thriceon free men
 more,
 Raging the mighty battle for
 freedom.

of the Glandco angelina was the sufferings of the Vivian girls and the main tragedies. Without any reason John Manley persecuted them at home, imprisoned them for months, and tried to bring on their destruction but the cleverness of a disguised Christian Jack Evans, who called himself Reigumay to hide his true character, saved them from the peril.

They were caught many times by the Glanddelinians, but never was the tragedy greater than when one of the Vivian girls suffered a shock from a bullet wound, and was lying helpless in bed, her sisters were carried off by the Glanddelinians and sold to different Glanddelinian child slave masters.

Not even poor "Uncle Tom", an "Uncle Tom's Cabin", suffered as they did at the hands of their cruel masters. Jennie had a cruel master and it would be too shocking to relate what she suffered there.

Evans looking for her finally found her in an old abandoned barn, more like a bleeding corpse than a living saintly little child that she was.

Evans was broken hearted over her condition, but he brought her safely back with her sisters after being pursued widely by the frenzied Glanddelinians. They suffered many cruel persecutions after that, were nearly killed at Brigham by mines.

Catherine Vivian got it as bad as Jennie and was found in the same condition as Jennie, at Cedarville.

At Mary McAllister, Violet and her sisters were, with their Guardian Jack Evans, captured by the Glanddelinians under General James Badden Smith.

He was a cruel man and, before Jack Evans, and to the enjoyment of his soldiers he struck Catherine and Jennie Vivian across the face with a rawhide whip, when Evans struck him down with a telling blow, breaking the nasal jaw.

A month Evans and the Vivian girls were held prisoners, then Evans was brought before the state general. "You insipite rattle snake, you'll suffer for the blow you struck me," he roared. "I'll put you to death by execution you poisonous rattle snake!"

When he was being brought back, Evans by his superhuman strength overpowered his guards.

with the Viriam girls and escaped to the Christian times
after being persecuted for a hundred miles.

Three days later during the battle at Bucklebury, though the Gos were victorious, and the Christians beaten, Francis Budden Smith was captured
and brought before Evans.

Evans gave him a pugnas look
and said:

"General Smith, because I and the little Viriam girls were prisoners
in your foul hands you
called me a poisonous rattlesnake.
Well I am one —
anyhow you hear me rattling
now. I brought all this war Violet and her sisters
suffered at the hands of you dirty Glandelinian cur, cents
feds, and gutterheads who lay in the mud of the pigs
and hogs and three of them
nearly died of — well they say it was the agony
of the damned, at Cedarvale.

And all of them narrowly escaped death at Brigano.

You're a prisoner now in my hands, General Francis and I'm going to make you know how it
feels to be strong.

You'll pay dearly for the blows you struck Catherine

and I'm going to accuse the ghost Christians who at Maul Orleans.

for you insipid friend I'm a man who never forgets, or forgives such men as you. You people call the Viriam girls the meanest names,
when you worse than these insects
themselves I'm free now, General Francis, and you're not, and I guess I've turned to rattlesnake
all right soon out when I strike."

Evans knew that the Viriam girls
had been persecuted hundreds of times without reason on account of their Christian ways I suppose and which has angered Evans
to the utmost limit. Evans had kept all the accounts
of what the Viriam girls
had suffered, and every time he would glance
over the accounts he'd almost lose his temper.

When poor Evans recounted
it all, all the long working haberdash of his very soul
toward the wicked Glandelinian armies and
soldiers, began to gather
in a deadly and
desperate form, and
not the Glandelinians
treated the Viriam girls
like the very devils
to torment the damned
despite their braving them
steadily, powerfully, resolutely
throughout it all.

And I'm a man who didn't

Powerful

Abreannia.

By Gertrude Angelina.

When the Abreannian nation was first discovered, it was found to be a very good nation, righteous in all ways, but that it knew not God. But then the Abreannians did not worship images of stone, but believed in two great spirits, "the unknown" and the demon.

They were spiteful toward the evil one, and faithful to the unknown. Even strangers who believed in God, the Abreannians harbored and befriended under conditions that they did not interfere with the religion of the Abreannians, and those who did, were not persecuted or put to death, and told respectfully that they were trespassing lands not belonging to them, and that they must go back to their own country.

Mighty Christian nations had waged sixty to seventy wars against Abreannia to bring her under submission to the Christian religion, but waging war against Abreannia was like a crippled child trying to lick a giant and every one of those 100 Christian nations were vanquished by Abreannia, their countries seized and made an Abreannian province. No measures of the armies or peoples of the conquered nations occurred, the people being only made subjects to Abreannia. But this finished Abreannian pagan religion. With so many Christian people among them allowed to retain their religions without any objection of any kind, the religion became contagious. King Decia the Abreannian king at that time caught at first, the people being surprised but not objecting.

At this time Abreannia had Angelina, Dandolia, Dapolia, Ulyssinkile, Mornon, and Ucheronile, and Poolest, all as strong Christian allies, great friends at that, who never quarreled with Abreannia and at this time Abreannia was called Evangelina. At the time the king died, Glandelina had been a part of Abreannia, ally, Angelina had rebelled, won, broke away and became a free nation. At the same time, Dandolia and Dapolia had revolted to Abreannia on account of the Glandelinian disturbance and Abbreannia became a mighty power to the world and a Christian nation. Five kings came and died Abbreannia was more Christian like than ever, and a nation that was the mightiest of them all.

Then came the reign of King Santa Anna Procle Glandelinia at this time was a wilful enemy of God. Had robbed the weaker nations, to make thereof a power, had stolen Calvernia from Angelina and erected child slavery of the most horrible kind.

- King Procle had a wife with almost the nature of the Blessed Virgin herself and two of the loveliest children a beautiful boy and a girl. The little boys name was Prince Gamna and the little girl was Princess Gamna. During the meanwhile the Calvernians in the year of 1888 had started a rebellion against Glandelinia and suffering and misery that set in was frightful. The King of Abbreannia had incessantly complained of the conduct of the Glandelinians in Calvernia but terrible occurrences were to follow. On November 27 1841 the King wife Marie Procle and his daughter took three thousand Abbreannian children on an excursion ship for a picnic. She had done much in lending help to Calvernia and Glandelinia desired revenge.

That very same day toward the evening when the children were having their happiness singing and playing and enjoying the best time when suddenly the ship was cut in two by the explosion of a torpedo, and the ship sunk so fast with all on board that there was no time to even launch a boat, and all found a watery grave.

The Abbreannian King was prostrated, and killed by the shock of the news. His son was broken hearted, and the nation was wild with rage. The Abbreannian government demanded an explanation for the deed and the excuse was that a submarine, flying the Angelina flag did the deed. A black handed lie.

However the Albreannian nation was an out in clearness. Angelina had no submarines at that time while Glandelina did.

The first thing Glandelina knew, was the frightful destruction of the wharves by the Albreannian warships. The pouring as of a mighty flood, the Albreannian armies into Calvernia and within four months all the biggest Glandelinaian armies were swept clean out of Calvernia with the most frightful disclusion, and not only that, but mighty Albreannian armies were moving gruesome paths through Glandelina and pouring toward their Capital city like an inevitable tidal wave. Battles by hundreds had been fought with the Albreannians never losing a one. In every battle they carried all before them.

Ruin was every where, the Albreannians laying everything in waste. Glandelina had reckoned with out the fact that she needed the Christian fire for ten years in vain Albreannians never lost a battle. Eight times the Albreannians stood siege to the main capital, only to withdraw on account of being hard pressed by forest fires set by their own comrades to devastate Glandelina. On March 1850 the city was besieged and stormed by the Albreannian armies. The fire along the Albreannian line was terrific. A Glorimid destruction raged in Glandelina. The city was laid in ruins amid an inconceivable slaughter. The Glandelinaian generals seeing the ruthless slaughter and destruction offered to surrender, but General Brumant's harsh bearing the city refused to accept the surrender.

A frightful catastrophe would have occurred to Glandelina had not the other nations started a mediation. So Albreannians did not achieve the wished nation as she intended, but released the prisoners taken and fined the Glandelinaian nation $100,000,000 in Albreannian money. It has now been a long time since the frightful frightful Glando-Abbreannian war of 1844. Angelina for four years has clashed with Glandelina herself. Abbreannia is watching like a hawk watches its prey. The moment King Gannon gives the word Glandelina will again be devastated. It was King Gannon who suffered the most, made an orphan by the tragedy, and losing three that were most dear to him - even when the Virgin girls were with him, nothing they said or done could make him smile. He remembers all what he suffered and is not only broken hearted, but wild with rage. He does not know that his best friend Governor General Vivian and his Angelinians are at stake. God keep Glandelina - whom he does. Abbreannia has helped the Angelinian cause some what, but this was only a light blow on Glandelina's cheek compared to what will come. It is believed that because it had its bad effects on the Angelinians the Crombury situation would have its bad effects on Abbreannia too but if believed so it cannot be confirmed. There is no nation that ever liked Abbreannia in her history whether good or bad, and not even Glandelina who fought and lost four wars with her. There is no reason to believe that the failure of the atonement of the Crombury murder can cause disaster to Abbreannia, though it does to her allies in the great war now raging. Abbreannia alone can revenge the many massacres of Christian children, the Crombury assassination, and save Angelina from the ruin and disunion which is threatening her at every hand. Abbreannia could take Glandelina's country from her entirely any time she sets her mind upon it and she would have in 1856 if the other Christian nations abhorring the destruction of Glandelina did not meddle with the Abbreannian King Francis Mc Allister, who adopted Prince Gannon. It took five months for the nations to prevent the disaster too. Mc Allister's uncle was King Procles

The beauty of the Vietnam
girls as described by General Jack Ambrose Brown.

With the view of inspiring
my best friends with greater love for the Holy Virgin
girls I wrote a short description of the beauty of these little girls as Evans told
to me in my conversation
to him about them.

"Indeed language, for my part
human language is utterly inadequate to express the beauty of the little Vinniam girls. The supreme loveliness of the Celestial spirits as it seems to me,
can be compared with nothing
like the Vinniam girls, who far surpass everything that is pleasing to mortal eyes. All the beautiful flowers put together that grows in the world, would be blotted
out by the dazzling
beauty of Violet and her sisters.

Now exquisitely beautiful
is the blue vaulted heaven,
when like so many sparkling gems, it is studded with myriads of stars. All natural beauty and
grandeur grows dim when compared to the charm
and magnificence of the starry heavens on a tranquil summer night.

Beautiful is the like as they are, I don't see how whatever the rascally glandelinians could treat them the way they do. All of them were alike.

But then if the rascals were forward enough to shoot at the statue of the Blessed Virgin, as one confessed, who is more beautiful than even the Viriam girls, and who had a still greater sorrow, they surely could take pleasure, in torturing children, more prettier than the Viriam girls themselves, if there are any such children.

What I have seen Violet and her sisters suffer, during this war, makes me feel that Glandelinia should have been wiped out in 1841 by Abbreannia than spared as she was.

Those nations that pleaded with Abbreannia to spare Glandelinia, were the biggest fools in earth.

If I had been General of Abbreannia and the mediators would have been brought before me to mediate for Glandelinia I would have shot them down like dogs.

It is a good idea that Angelinia retain all the prisoners she had captured, in order to force them without pay, and even under the lash to rebuild the ruins of the Calverian cities, repair the desolated fields and farms, and clear away the wreckage of forests.

This work as I know is already under way, and not only that, but by the strict laws of the Abbreannian governments now, in Calvernia, the Glandelinian prisoners are forced to furnish ment to build the ruined cities damaged even by the Angelinians.

This I presume is the greatest punishment that any Glandelinian prisoners ever suffered and it is well deserved and I declare that this government ought to make slaves of the Glandelinian prisoners for all time, instead of the duration of the war, and the time it takes to build the ruins.

In fact the Abbreannian governments are mad clean through, over all the massacres of children that occurred, and the wanton destruction in Calvernia, and have several times notified General Viriam that to their idea Abbaanina ought to ~~us~~ intervene, that Angelinia will never ~~us~~, without intervention, and that Abbaanina would force extreme measures upon the Glandelinian government.

Besides the past treatment of the poor Virrian girls, has maddened me so far that I am to the Glandelinian prisoners in my possession, as a bulldog would be to a strange cat, let alone a familiar one. I hate the very sight of a Glandelinian and the sooner I get him out of my sight to be shot, or put in the internment camp the better it was for me.

Glandelinia has done a lot that should be atoned for, and will if she wants to preserve herself from total destruction if we win and which we will.

And to close this interview I will say for the last time that Glandelinia shall pay us dear, and what more all I demand that belongs to her shall now belong to Abbaanina as soon as war is won, and no Glandelinian will ever be allowed to cross the Angelinian boundary again. Though when the war is over Glandelinia will never be forgiven for the murder of children the wanton destruction in Calvernia, and the unjust misery of the poor Virrian girls.

The battle of Cadornine was later estimated to have covered an area of nearly 1000 miles in an area of which is as much as the distance from London to Glasgow. The fighting was not a mere tactical affair
but a struggle for the survival of the human race. The Christians suffered in the battle of Cadornine several thousands of Christians were killed
and the archbishop of York was among the dead. However, the advantage was not
lost to the Christians
as they never gave up the struggle. The explosions of the
bombardment were
heard in many parts
of the country and
the Christians had
been victorious.

Continuation of the Battle of Big Gap

During the height of this great battle many of the heavily armed Christians were moved down chains in frightful numbers to the Glendelmeian side in the direction of the Christian million for the purpose of a trap and was threatened with annihilation to general surprise. One commander who with his men and his men who were in a very a serious doubt as to the result, could believe that the Glendelmeian force, who, charged, retreated, closed upon them, and retreated, army which perished many men and destroyed many more division. The battle made a for terrible thousands miles and forces as the Christian mean made for a of retreat. Glendelmeian retreated slaughtered their religion, divisions of Christians at a great rate. This time I thought you the losses for the predicted Glendelmeian force at the battle of the Christians. I fear the war any agreement now. Frequently quarters with weapons and help destruction. The Glendelmeian victory of the Battle of the was a triumph over the Christian million. I was told that by the Glendelmeian forces. I am sure in the this Glendelmeian many

THE BATTLE
OR

IT IS SUSPECTED THAT THE BATTLE
BUT IT HAS FAILED TO DO
CONCERNED

The total number of battles won by the various Glandelinian armies, consisting of the Gummarians, Omandians, Omandians, Uncle Rinds Condencians, the Hollerstinians, and Gargolians number about ninety two, while fifty more were lost.

There were fifteen battles considered undecided, or drawn and which makes altogether one hundred sixty six that had been fought before the battle of Gloria Zoe Run.

There were three hundred eighty Glandelinian generals mortally wounded, eight hundred eighty four killed and one hundred eighty one severely, dangerously, or slightly wounded, making a total of three thousand four hundred thirty four in killed, wounded and captured.

Intire losses in officers of all ranks were about fifty thousand, two hundred twenty two.

It is probable that the whole Glandelinian linian loss in killed and wounded up to the battle of Gloria Zoe Run, including those taken as prisoners, is four hundred seven million, seven hundred eight thousand, four hundred sixty six.

There are also many battles where the Glandelinians also lost several in the extreme but these battles have been so exceedingly fierce that the losses have either been withheld or are not correctly known.

Gloria Zoe Run and Anna-Maria still raging are not included in the list as yet.

The battle of Anna-Maria is quite near as violent as Gloria but probably will rage for three days in duration.

It started along the left wing of the Christian line where General Raymond R. Hanson Federal's combined forces made a desperate assault throwing the Christian forces into confusion by a vigorous turning movement. It is probable that a serious disaster would have occurred had it not been for the arrival of Granados's army which barred the enemy's advance in that direction and threw back the Gladiolusian forces with the wounding of their chief commander, Federal.

Manley had also delivered fearless desperate attacks on the Christian center and Thaumantia, attacking the right throwing its columns forward as if to meet the waves against a stranded ship in a cyclone on sea. On that day was a severe battle along the line but the engagement with Granados and Federal was the most desperate ever fought between the two, ending the Christian line and been cut up and thrown into a pandemonium of confusion and while hundreds of generals fell and wounded and mingled and bleeding in trying to rally their shattered divisions, Granados's forces aimed to the rescue and his whole line poured in a sudden simultaneous barrage fire which continued steadily for four hours and the high command line was torn to pieces, their shattered columns rallied again and again and would have won the field had not Federal fallen dangerously wounded, his horse having been blown to atoms in the explosion of a heap of shell of a ninety pound calibre. Federal's whole command with the loss of all of their generals and officers was cut to pieces and routed and hundreds of thousands of Gladiolusians fell into the hands of the Christians.

The fighting during the battle along the left was so violently savage and within an hour had spread over a distance of a space of nearly miles than the whole battalion could have done.

The first shots were laid down by the British and the day could be heard throughout the whole country of Labrador though the battle was fought fifty miles away from the international boundary line on the Anglinian Soil.

The second day of the great battle was still more severe. It was the first time which attack-ers went to it with all the might they could muster.

The disposable Christian onslaughts were covered by all the available guns of the Christian battalions to win the enemy were unable to reply as they had been compelled to mass their own artillery on the Christ-ian assaults.

The Anglinian cannon did irreparable damage among the surging Christian lines driving division after division into flying fragments. Many of the whole armies and tore the main lines through and through with a blasting artillery and musket fire of the greatest intensity. But the grand division of John Manley's men had been buckled and banded back so that his whole command was thrown into confusion and in one desperate dash in which millions fell on both sides simultaneously the Christian lines were in possession of the Anglinian artillery. Christian jacks manley's army on account of the smashing up of General

 them so long, his

 The afternoon of the second day's battle was something terrible and the Angolians and Camdelean
 country saturated with the den and confusion.

Even after the second day of the battle
 and after his two bitter defeats Manley did not seem to have enough.
 All night the armies
 lay camped before each other and with the
 first dawn of day they arose.

Then in the faint light
 were the still solid Christian lines a shattered
 stretch of wooded country
 behind them and all along the front still
 and silent as the
 dead clustered the whole
 Christian army.

In opposite landscapes
 was the still shattered
 Camdelean force.
 About nine o'clock in the morning the Angolians
 came sweeping forward
 to attack the Camdelean line.

The Glandelinians despite the singing fury of thousands of Christian artillery which pounded seemingly everything to pieces kept side by side
in great masses doing no
more for the showers of Christian shells and high explosives than if they had been showers of rain.

With stupendous loss the Christians were hurled valleys seemed to become channels of flame the burning garments of the earth seemed to wither and fly off in the fiery blast of cannon and exploded every storm of shells of every caliber and so terrific was the din that scores of thousands of the soldiers went insane from it.

At the moment the angelinians began to give way the glandelinians pressed forward like a whirling storm wave of men but as the angelinians reinforced by other portions of the main body turned to face the glandelinians one more large force of the Christian cavalry divided the pressing body of the glandelinians from the rest and thus all the foremost portion of the glandelinian army sixteen million in number fell fighting in vain as none would surrender.

The main body of the glandelinians still remained firm holders of the battling storm of the Christian cannon and with their own cannon cut down the multitude of Christians as the harvesters would do the wheat. Several general vicinias after several hours pretended to be retreating the glandelinians following but the Christian armies only closed again and fell upon the glandelinians with great slaughter.

General Bucknell Turner was wounded with a bullet in the eye dropped and many of his officers were already killed or wounded. General Jackson Manley seeing that his forces were advancing ordered a general advance which was in full swing in the afternoon. But this gigantic attack was useless. Fourteen onslaughts were made only to be cut down and he was compelled to withdraw.
